America Pulls Out of Vietnam

Re-elected President Richard M. Nixon announced on Saturday, January 27 at 6:00 p.m. (CST), that for America, the Vietnam war was over.

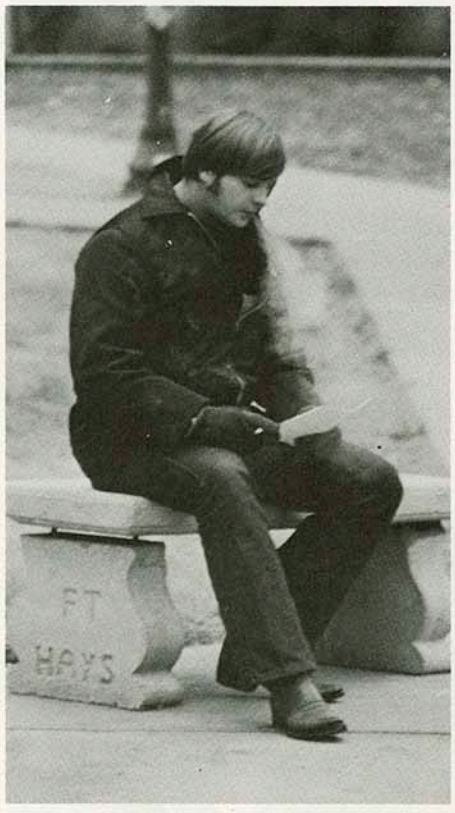

The treaty was signed.

Everyone (except the latest Canadian residents) was coming home.

The POW's were released, with a few stalls on both sides that frightened expectant families. They came home to a country that had changed quite a bit from the country they had remembered or dreamed about in their bamboo prisons.

The men returned to a nation where, in four years, God willing and the People agreeing, Richard Nixon will be the only ex-President living, for in the space of two months, Harry S. Truman and Lyndon B. Johnson had died.

ROTC Pushes for Berth at Fort Hays State

In the U.S., everyone except a handful of Indians was surprised at the peace negotiations being held in South Dakota. The American Indians were uprising, and in their desolate reservation in a settlement called Wounded Knee, they were holding their own with "illegal ammunition" against the government. The U.S. had them surrounded and no one was getting through — no doctors, no food, no white-eyes and especially no redskins.

But the Indian situation didn't hit home as hard as the food situation did. Rocketing food prices drove out the tantalizing dreams of two-inch steaks and replaced them with macaroni and cheese. Beef and pork prices rose by dimes and quarters almost overnight. A little town in New York state mailed the White House 100 peanut butter and jelly sandwiches to emphasize their meat boycott.

How did all the national turmoil affect Fort Hays State?

ROTC picked this year to push for a berth on campus. A sudden spurt of concern from a minority of students burst forth.

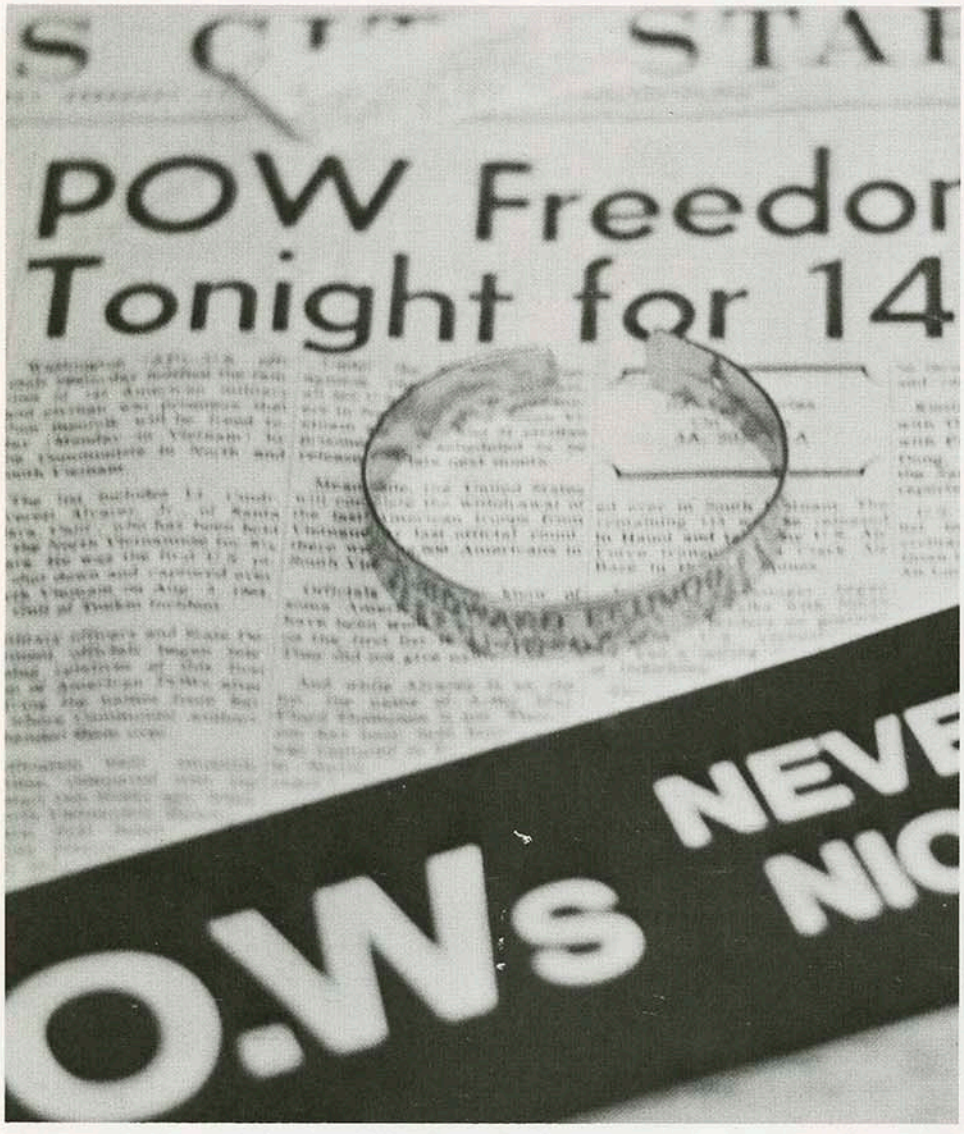

Johnson Dies Before Ceasefire

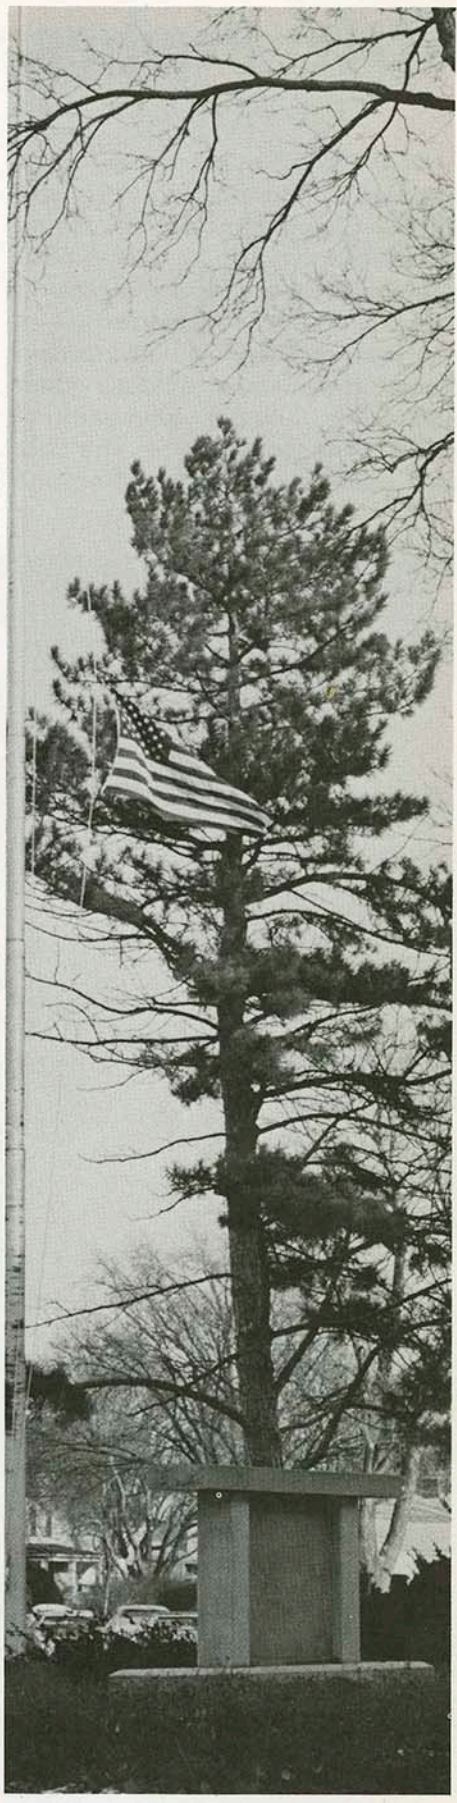

A "straw poll" was held to measure student feelings. Unfortunately, not enough students felt a neccessity to be measured. The spurt of action ended with black paint on sidewalks proclaiming "stop ROTC by any means."

In honor of former presidents Truman and Johnson, the flags were lowered and the days of their burials were declared holidays. During the month of mourning for Johnson, while the flags on campus were at half mast, the Vietnam war was ended.

As for the end of the war, Fort Hays State as a whole did nothing to celebrate the end of the longest battle in America's history. No speeches were given, no days off were granted to honor the war dead or the returning soldiers, no black proclamations stained the sidewalks. No special attention was paid by FHS to the end of the Vietnam war.

Fort Hays State was tackling its own problems in 1973. A lack of funds from the state and a decreased enrollment put a definite pinch on the budget. President Gustad tried streamlining the administration section and was forced to send letters to 12 faculty members urging them to begin searching for other positions pending the actual necessitation of a release.

In spite of the lack of funds, the campus at Fort Hays State finally received some well deserved and desperately needed sprucing up.

Picken and Albertson Halls were graced with new roofing. The rain leaking through the roofs had begun to tire employees, instructors and students with its constant drip and the sudden moves of people and equipment to drier quarters.

The scaffolding surrounding half of a building at a time, caused some inconvenience to those students who, while racing to a class, happened upon a blocked exit. Anyone walking along the sidewalk during the incredibly windy spring days often had to dodge flying debris.

Classes held inside the buildings were led by hoarse instructors screaming over the racket of the hammers and the occasional crashing of rotted tile being dumped over the roof's edge, down a rackety wooden funnel.

Yet, with all the improvements, the student teachers and others who had the opportunity of working in Rarick Hall hoped in vain for someone to summon a Pied Piper of termites. The shaking third floor threatens to send the overcrowded Ed. Psych. classes tumbling down into the basement.

Coliseum Makes Way for New Complex

By far the biggest change on campus is the near completion of the new HPER complex that is slowly and painfully being paid for by extracting an extra $1 per credit hour from each student. Old Sheridan Coliseum snake pit saw its last basketball game — a defeat at the hands of Washburn.

The building, built in 1916 and termed as "much too large" by the Kansas legislature, was filled to overflowing the first time it was used and the home basketball crowd has been filling it ever since.

The Coliseum arena will remain intact and in use for some activities, while most of the offices in the building will continue with their present services. The building will continue to stand on campus, unless the settling of the ground under the pool cracks the west end of the Coliseum beyond any hope of repair.

On and Off Campus Housing

1 | 2 | 3 | 4 1. Custer Hall rose again, according to prediction, and coed-co-op living came into existence at Fort Hays State. 2, 3, and 4. '50's parties were popular this year and many hall residents and their guests put themselves all out to copy and capture the mood of Rock'n'Roll.

Highlights of 1973 Residence Hall Activities

Whether it is a dorm room, a first apartment, or a honeymoon cottage, the home of a college student is truly his castle. Home for many Fort Hays State students is one of the five residence halls. In addition, 1800 FHS students find housing off-campus.

Loyal supporters rejoiced this year at the reopening of Custer. The coed, upper-classman hall benefited from many innovations including a successful cooperative cleaning service. Social activities for the year ranged from a 50's party to Farkle Days — a week of activities in which each floor sponsored a contest or program. Residents also participated in a Keg Party during Homecoming weekend, a watermelon feed, and several dances. In the spring, residents united to stage a successful campaign against locating the Student Health Service on the first floor of the hall.

Agnew's year was highlighted by a formal Banquet on Apr. 14. The girls were also involved in various activities throughout the year. Homecoming found the Agnew coeds capturing the novelty-on-foot trophy with their entry, "Once Upon a Tiger Tale." Service was important at Agnew. In conjunction with the International Students, they sold handcrafts made by refugees, and during Senior Weekend, Agnew-ites acted as hostesses to visiting senior girls.

With 80 per cent of its residents upperclassmen, McGrath Hall has become a symbol of unity on the FHS campus. In April, the men staged a marathon basketball game that netted nearly $650 for the Cancer Drive. Throughout the year McGrath was active in intramurals. They captured first place in football and horseshoes, and were also dorm champions in basketball. LeAnn Muirhead, McGrath's Homecoming Queen candidate, placed in the top five, and their entry in Beauty and the Beast received second.

The 600 women who entered McMindes in September found it to be an active, enthusiastic residence hall. The McMindes-Wiest Homecoming float was awarded the first place Sweepstakes prize. McMindes girls participated in Best-Dressed Coed, Miss FHS, Furlough, Derby Days, and Beauty and the Beast. Profits from a Valentine Formal gave the girls an opportunity to donate $172 to Managua University. Through other service projects, including a rummage sale, McMindes was able to donate to the United Fund.

Weist found the opportunity for promotion and recognition with "Weist Hall Week." Throughout the year, Weist also sponsored an election watch, two polka parties, dances and hall tournaments. A trash clean-up along Big Creek gave the men a chance to do their part for ecology. Several improvements were added to Weist, including a weight room and a Weist Hall Sign.

Highlights From FHS Fraternities and Sororities

Not all fraternities and sororities can be extremely successful in all they do, but judging from the 78 pledges entering their ranks this year, the Hays groups are at least quite busy.

The men from Sigma Phi Epsilon took pride in scholarship as they took the Scholarship Trophy for the Highest GPA during the spring semester. The Hays Sigma Phi Epsilon chapter also received the Outstanding Chapter trophy from their National headquarters.

In sports, the Sig Eps took 1st place in the Furlough Bike Race and won the Regional Sigma Phi Epsilon basketball crown.

Affiliated with the Sig Eps are the Daughters of the Golden Heart. Pam Boos was elected Sweetheart Queen in their April Golden Heart Ball.

Sigma Chi Fraternity maintained the Scholarship Trophy for the highest over-all GPA for the fourth straight semester and the fraternity had a dozen members in the Student Senate.

Sigma Chi also held their annual Derby Days to raise money for Wallace Village in Colorado.

In conjunction with Delta Zeta, Sigma Chi men collected food for a Thanksgiving feast for needy Hays families.

The DZs also found that working for themselves could be quite rewarding as they won Best Animation on a Homecoming float with their Tiger chasing an Ichabod around a tree, which they constructed with some help from the Vets Club.

The women also took a scholarship trophy as both active and pledge members kept the highest over-all GPA.

Delta Zeta's Linda Wheeler played Beauty to Al Link's Beast in the annual contest. Link, an Alpha Kappa Lambda, captured this honor (?) for the second year.

Alpha Gamma Delta did volunteer work this year reorganizing and categorizing books in the Hadley Memorial Hospital.

Alpha Gam's were very active in campus activities such as Tiger Debs, Tiger Paws and various beauty pageants. The Alpha Gamma Delta women were squeezed out of first place in the Derby Days competition by the Delta Zeta's.

Men of Sigma Tau Gamma grouped together again for their annual "Bike Ride for Cancer" in a cold and windy effort to draw contributions for the Cancer Fund.

Delta Sigma Phi fraternity celebrated its 20th anniversary on the FHS campus this year, while last year's newly formed Acacia slowly dropped from sight.

Phi Sigma Epsilon had a slow season this year. Even though they participated in the many intramural games, the Phi Sigs couldn't quite catch any first place standings.

The small sorority of Sigma Kappa turned out in big fashion to repair the Day Care Center. The girls worked diligently painting, refinishing, dusting — generally brightening up the center with some help from Sigma Chis.

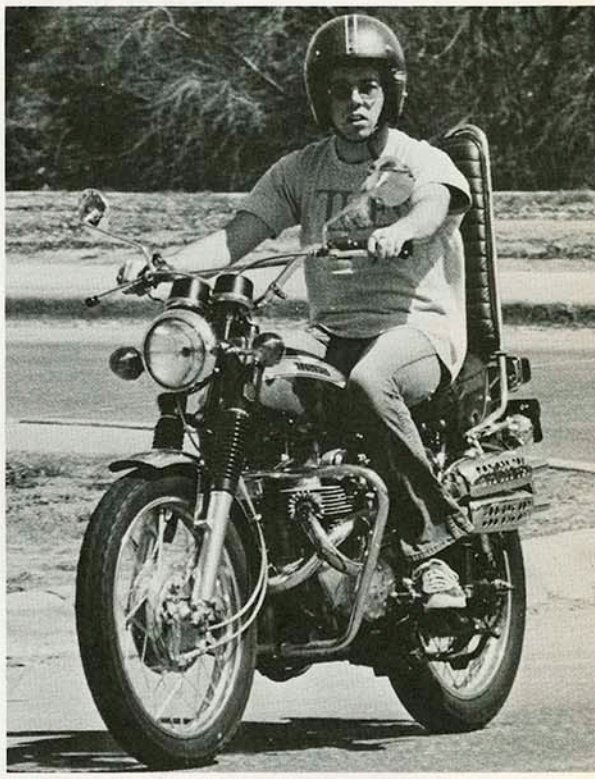

Sigma Sigma Sigma women also banded together to help the needy. During the Holiday season, the Tri-Sigmas hosted a Christmas party for underprivileged children.

And Tau Kappa Epsilon men decided to make the sororities an "offer they couldn't refuse" in order to fill the TKE's canned food drive larders.

Driving around like the gangsters of the 30s, the TKEs "kidnapped" all four sorority presidents from their evening of shopping or club meetings, and held them for ransom. The ransom was a can of food for every member of the respective president's sorority. The ransoms were met with smiles and the food drive was deemed a success.

2 1 4 3 5 6 1. The members of the Greek league of intramural activities are a very competitive group. 2. The girl-chasing-the-guy theme is altered a little for the Derby Day chase, where the girls "hunt" in packs to get those little black derbies. 3. Roaring 20's rush parties were very popular this year. 4. Social fraternities usually do more than socialize. Almost all fraternities spend a lot of time cleaning up different Hays areas or working for charities. 5. All rush parties aren't fun and games; some, like this candlelighting affair, are rather formal and mysterious. 6. Two Tri-Sigma's seem quite pleased with their new "sisters."

"In a public meeting Friday, the two-year-old problem of ROTC on our campus once again came to the surface. One faculty member, obviously worried about the rising financial straits of FHS, asked the Regents about the cost of getting a ROTC program."

Highlights of 1973 Clubs and Organizations

In addition to a variety of classes, most departments at FHS also boast of extra-curricular clubs. Throughout the 1972-73 year these clubs were active in various ways on the campus.

The Women's Recreation Association sponsored a volleyball clinic at Hays High. Social activities included a fall campout and a pizza party. An awards banquet concluded the year.

One of the major activities of the 4-H Club included judging 4-H days around the state. They were also active in donating to the Cancer Drive and Boys Home.

The History Club was prominent in petitioning against the loss of faculty members in December. Throughout the year they also promoted general interest in history.

An awards banquet honoring the outstanding freshman and senior was the highlight of the year for the Chemistry Club. During Spring Break, members took a field trip to chemical plants at Liberal and Dodge City.

The newly formed Block and Bridle Club participated in fitting and showing contests. Several livestock shows completed the year.

The Dames Club sponsored two contests, Little Mr. Fort Hays State and the Baby Beauty Contest. At Homecoming the club was awarded the theme award for their float. Money-making projects included annual sales and bazaars.

An Industrial Arts Fair in April highlighted the year for the Industrial Arts Club. Their annual watermelon feed was again a successful social event.

The FHA Home Economics Chapter gathered toys for the Day Care Center as a service project. Members were active in state and national club affairs and held a Home Economics Day on campus for high school students.

Activities of members of the Veterans Club included a Homecoming float, and members also donated money to help the Nicaraguan earthquake victims.

The Sociology Club sponsored members to the Social Workers Convention in Topeka. Members held a symposium on Wounded Knee. Social activities included a pool night at the Union and several keggers.

A Black Student Union formed at FHS. They sponsored a Black Awareness Weekend, and helped to sponsor the Chicano weekend for minority groups.

APO Backs Fund Drive

"The sponsoring organizations win the right to possess the traveling trophies this year, but the real winner is the student loan fund. A total of $385, realized from the penny-a-vote event, will make nearly $5,000 loan capital available for student assistance, since the federal matching program contributes 12½ times the basic gift."

Leader Vs. Senate Over Legislative Coverage

"In its last meeting the Student Senate passed an amendment . . . all future and past bills are in full force and effect whether they are published in the Leader or not, but the Leader is still required to print the bills and if it doesn't the funds appropriated to it will be cut.

This bill is the latest result of the controversy being carried on between the Student Senate and the State College Leader. The Student Senate feels it cannot be an effective governmental body as long as it lacks communication between the students and itself. It blames the newspaper for this deficiency, citing a general lack of coverage. Last semester 19 stories were printed in the Leader concerning the Senate and activities related to it, making it the best covered activity on campus . . ."

Highlights of Performances at Fort Hays State

Performers were abundant on the FHS campus in 1972-73. They ranged from nationally famous personalities to local aspirants.

Perhaps the highlight of the year was a Homecoming performance given by the Lettermen. A standing-room-only crowd was enthralled by the unique and widely-known sounds of the trio.

Through the Artist and Lecture Series, several concerts and speakers were brought to Fort Hays. DeJan's Band, a brass band with New Orleans tradition, were on campus on Sept. 7. A Kansas-originated group, the Burgundy Street Singers, also performed in September. With a somewhat different emphasis, the Don Cossack Dancers performed Russian music and folk songs in October.

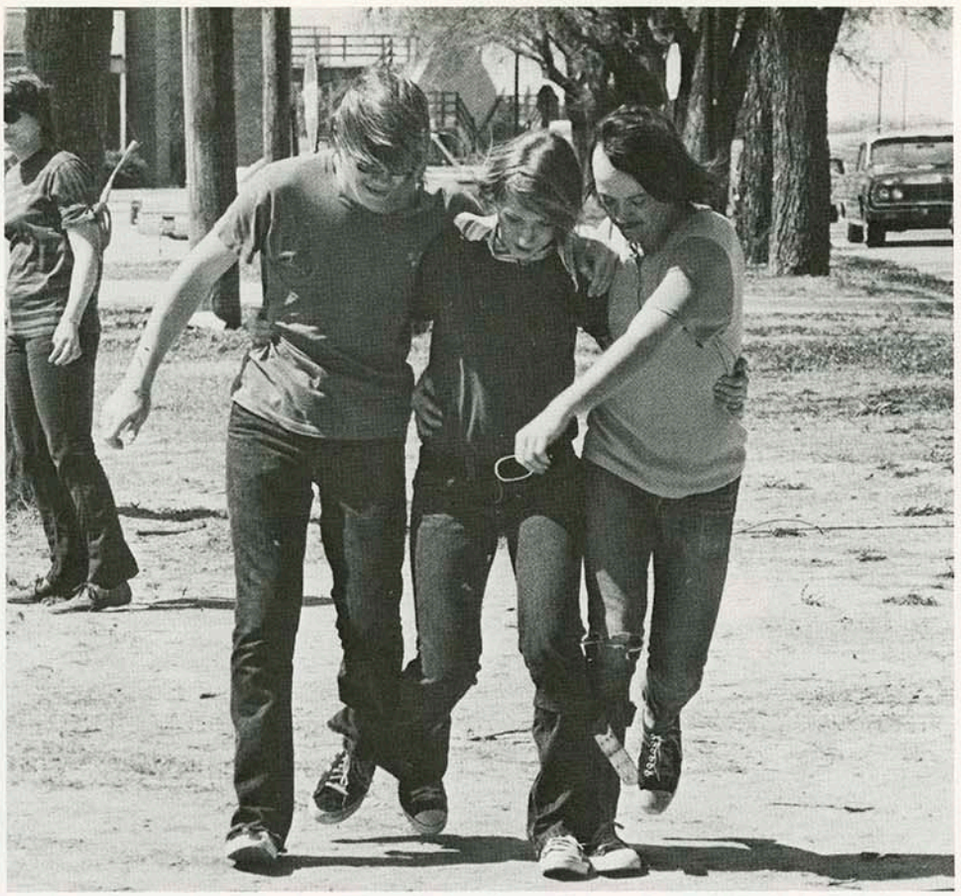

William Kuntsler, defense attorney for the "Chicago 7," spoke on Oct. 31. He urged a small gathering to read the Pentagon Papers. Jeremiah Collins presented his impersonation of JFK on Nov. 9. On Nov. 27 Alfred Deller presented the Deller Consort of 16th and 17th century music for the male-alto voice.

Launching the spring semester, the Bartok Quartet performed in Felten-Start Theater in February. Jack Anderson noted Washington columnist, spoke to a large crowd in early March. Also in March was a concert with the Moog Synthesizer, a one-man electronic band. The Artist and Lecture Series was completed on April 24 with a concert by Ferrente and Teicher, duet pianists.

In addition to regular TGIF presentations, the theater department gave several major productions throughout the year. In October they presented "Lysistrata," a story of women's liberation in ancient Greece. "Tiny Alice," a play presenting views on sex and religion, was staged in November. The ballad of Barbara Allen, "Dark of the Moon," opened Feb. 22 for a four-day run. An April presentation of "Land of the Teddy Bears," a children's play written by FHS' H. V. Ketchum, completed the year.

The music department was also active throughout the year. Nov. 11 found them presenting the Varsity Show. Concert Choir, Concert Band and other music ensembles toured and performed for Kansas high schools. "Carmen," this year's opera, was the major production for the year; it was presented in February. Home-Town Cookin', a jazz concert of local performers, featured Forrest Buchtel. The Fort Hays Singers presented their annual concert in March. The year for the music department drew to a close with the Spring Concert on May 1.

Back-Hill Folklore Underlines 'Dark of the Moon' Drama

A witch-boy from the mountain came,
A-pinin' to be human,
Fer he had seen the fairest gal
A gal named Barbara Allen.

O Conjur Man, O Conjur Man,
Please do this thing I'm wantin'
Please change me to a human man,
Fer Barbara I'd be courtin'.

Now Barbara had a red, red dress
And one she had of blue,
And many men did Barbara love,
But never was she true.

Oh, you can be a man, a man,
If Barbara will not grieve you,
If she be faithful fer a year,
Yer eagle, he will leave you.

O Barbara, will you marry me,
And will you leave me never?
Oh, yes, my love, I'll marry you,
And live with you forever.

Oh, Barbara was buried in the old church yard,
And many years she lay there.
The grass grew up around her grave
How peacefully she lay there.

And then one night, the moon went dark.
A fog came from the mountain.
It floated down to Barbara's grave
And settled there around her.

1|2 1. John (Garnold Kreft), the witch-boy rivals the county's strongest boy, Marvin Hudgens (Dan Doherty), to prove himself worthy of Barbara Allen's (Carol Hoffman) love. 2. The hidden witches attempt to persuade John to remain in the mystical world. Marvin finds Barbara and tries to convince her to return and be his woman. 3. John and Barbara are married at the country store and make their home in the nearby country hills. The witches make a deal: Barbara has to remain true to John for one year in order for John to become human; if she isn't, she will die. 4. Barbara and John prepare for their first child. Upon birth, it is burned as it looks "like a witch." Friends and family decide later that Barbara needs to destroy John, so they allow Marvin to rape her during a revival service. After the witches tell John what has happened, he returns to them and Barbara dies.

Ketchum's Original 'Land of the Teddy Bears' Delights and Entertains Children of All Ages

"In 1971, the college sent me to New York to attend the opening night of an off-Broadway production of a play I wrote. On the plane coming home, there was no one sitting beside me and I had a chance to think instead of to talk and I thought 'I wish I could write a play for children.' Suddenly, I remembered a little boy who had the unfortunate habit of sucking his thumb. (He was one of my brothers.) He became Jody. And since I wanted him to correct that fault, I thought of a wondrous land where 'anything can happen — if you want it badly enough. That year there was also a resurgence of interest in teddy bear toys. I then recalled other children who had little problems. I put them all together and finally wrote 'The Land of the Teddy Bears.' "

— H. V. Ketchum

1|2|3|4|5 The Land of the Teddy Bears begins when Jody's mother gives Jody a teddy bear in hopes that he will stop sucking his thumb. He rejects the bear and as usual, falls asleep sucking his thumb. He dreams about himself and four other children with little problems who also have teddy bears. 1. Gladdie Goodgirl's (Jerri Rohr) problem is fear of the dark. Goodybear (Shari Steen) is her guardian and helps her overcome her fear. 2. Roger (Marta Allton) likes to beat up his bear. Raggedybear (Bill Rhoads) only has one eye and one ear due to such treatment. Raggedybear sings his conversations with Roger, who convinces his bear to take him to Teddy Bear land. 3. Johnnybear (Dwayne Spady) succeeds in stopping his little owner from wetting his bed. 4. Gertie Tattler (JoEllen Hull) likes to tattle on everyone. Tattlebear (Dave McIntosh) spanks her whenever she tells tales. 5. Jody (Sandi Hammond) dreams he gets a big paper thumb that is impossible to suck, so he hugs his bear, and falls asleep again under the watchful eyes of his mother (Rose Johnson). Other cast members: Rita Ash, John Cunard, Junior Goodwin, Charles Goslin, Ed Knoll, Rose Rohr, Connie Swisher.

Highlights of Men's and Women's Athletics

First year Head Coach Bill Giles was faced with the task of rebuilding the Tigers' Football fortunes. Showing youth and inexperience, the Bengals struggled through a 1-8-1 season. The Tigers led the Great Plains Athletic conference in total offense while the conference statistics had the Bengal defense last.

Coach Chuck Brehm's Tiger Basketball squad broke from the gate fast, winning seven out of eight games. The Tigers traveled to Boiling Spring, N. C. during the Gardner-Webb Invitational to place third.

At the start of the spring semester, youth and inexperience caught up with the Bengals and they lost the last nine games of the season.

Coach Alex Francis' Cross Country team captured the first GPAC crown. Led by Tom Bradrick and All-America Jim Birnbaum, the runners were strong in all competition with a second place finish at the Missouri Valley AAU meet. The Tigers placed 10th at the NAIA meet at Liberty, Mo. The meet was plagued with confusion which meet officials stated kept the Tigers from placing higher in the standings.

New Tiger Wrestling coach Barry Allen greeted 29 prospects for the wrestling season. Freshmen were counted on heavily as the Tiger squad only had two seniors, Rick Doran and team Captain Gale Epp. Doran gained All-America honors by placing sixth at the NAIA Nationals at Morningside College, Sioux City, Iowa. Epp was chosen by the team as the most valuable wrestler. The overall team record was 3-12, with most of the losses from strong NCAA contenders.

Five lettermen returned for Coach Ed McNeil's 16th Gymnastics squad. Strong performances by Frank Gray, Donovan Randolph and Captain Johnny Sanders, enabled the gymnasts to garner an 11-1 record and a fourth place finish at the NAIA Nationals at the University of Wisconsin at LaCrosse. Outstanding performances by freshmen turned what was thought to be a rebuilding year into a strong year for Tiger gymnasts.

Baseball at Fort Hays was viewed with optimism. Six lettermen bolstered Coach Earl Hobb's hopes for a GPAC championship. Hitting and pitching were the Tiger's strong points as they captured a first place finish in the Texas Wesleyan Tournament and a first place tie at the Northwest Missouri Invitational Tournament.

The Bengals brought a conference crown closer to reality when they defeated the Emporia Hornets by a 2-1 decision, moving them into the GPAC playoffs which were held in Hays. Unfortunately the Tigers lost their chance of a GPAC crown when Hays lost to the University of Northern Colorado.

Head Coach Alex Francis greeted 16 lettermen (seven All-Americans) for the 1973 Tiger Track season. The Tigers took the GPAC championship by edging out the University of Northern Colorado. This made the fourth time in the last five years the Tigers have won a conference championship in track.

Head Tennis coach Bud Moeckel had six lettermen returning from a 7-8-2 team of last season. Kim Emmert and Dave Hewett led the young team. Hopes are high that the experience for the youngsters will pay even bigger dividends in the future.

Rain and cold weather hampered the Tiger Golf team for most of the season. Led by John Pedarek and Danny Harvanek, the Bengal squad missed capturing the District 10 crown by a single stroke.

Due to an exceptionally rainy spring and scheduling problems, the Men's Soccer Club was limited to a season of only two games, both narrow losses.

Women's Varsity Sports were given a special emphasis at Fort Hays State this year. Women competed in six different varsity sports throughout the year.

Highlighting the Women's Varsity Volleyball season was a second place finish in the state Tournament. This entitled them to compete in regional tournament action in Minneapolis, Minn., where they were eliminated while wrapping up the season with a record of 14-8.

Women's Tennis at FHS had a short fall season. Competing in four matches, the squad managed three victories for the year, including wins over the University of Kansas and Kansas State University.

With a 7-3 record, the FHS Women's Varsity Basketball team earned the right to enter the state championships which were held in Fort Hays State's own Sheridan Coliseum. They swept by Benedictine in the first round but were beaten by Kansas State in the finals to finish with a record of 8-4.

A new sport on the FHS scene was Varsity Gymnastics for women. Coached by Warren Teasley, the women gymnasts won two of five meets in their initial season.

Ending the regular season at 7-1, the FHS Women's Softball team entered the State Tournament on May 5 with high hopes. Drawing the eventual champion, KU, in the first round, the Tigerettes were defeated, but came back to beat Washburn for third. That completed their season at 8-2.

The Women's Track team was a major contender in all meets in which it participated. In the first four meets, the team finished second three times, while taking the top spot once.

Under the direction of Wayne McConnell, the men's intramurals program was very popular with 3,088 male students who competed in 13 different sports. Overall 19 championships were decided throughout the intramural year.

This year, for the first time, women in varsity sports were not allowed to compete in the women's intramurals program. Still there were 818 girls who participated in the program directed by Helen Miles. Seventeen championships were decided.

"I had heard a lot about Coach Francis. He doesn't pressure you. He supplies the coaching, you supply the guts."

— Paul Ide, Tiger race walker

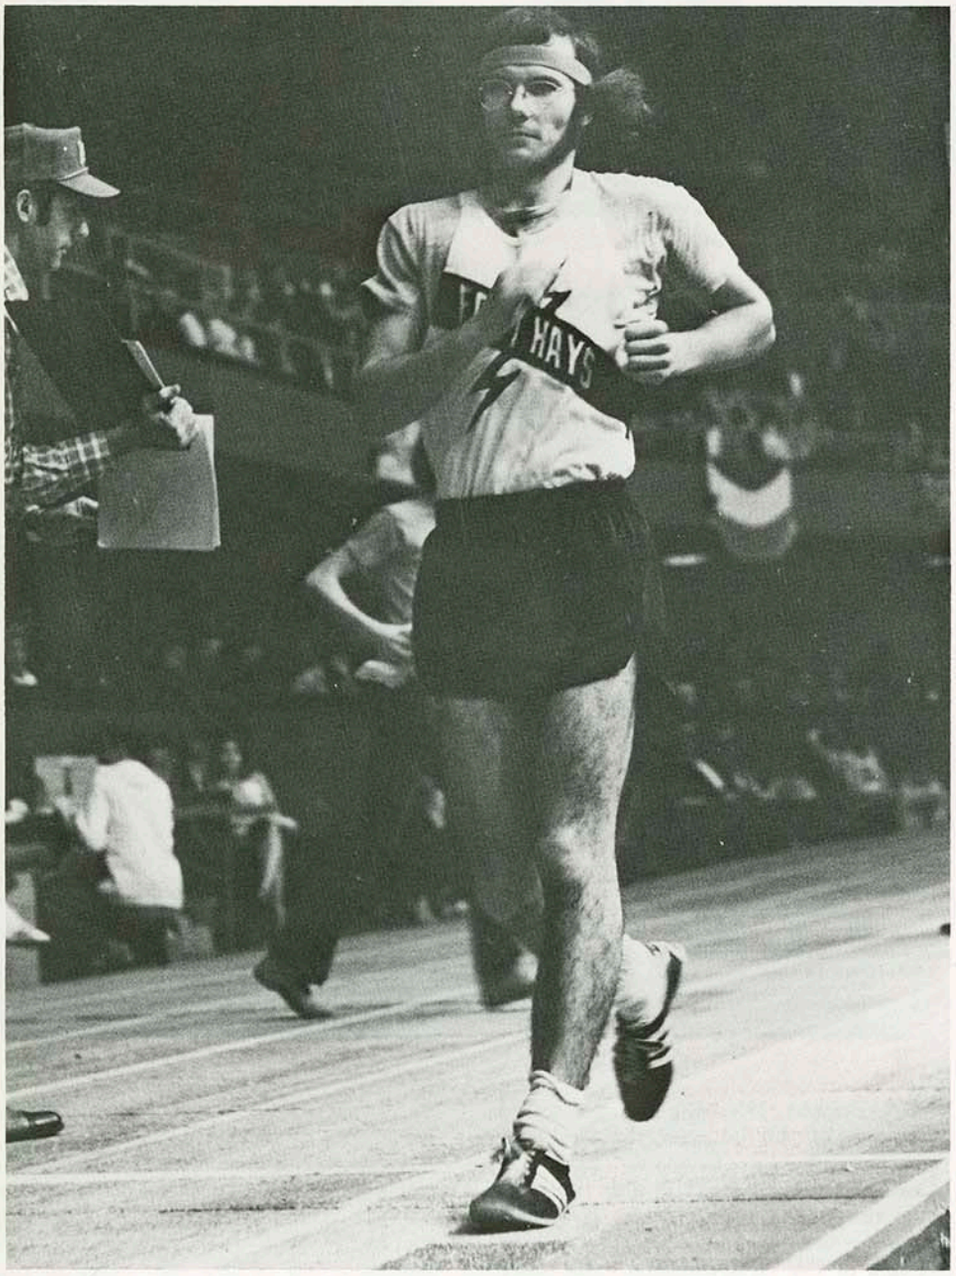

Francis' Track Team Expands to Race Walking as Paul Ide Joins Fort Hays State as Walker

1. Three individual FHS track records are owned by junior half-mile specialist Jon Nelson. They are the indoor 1000-yard run (2:12.9), the 800-meters (1:49.8) and the 880-yard run (1:50.3). 2. A major performer for the Bengals in field events was J. D. Armstrong. In our dual with Emporia he is in the process of launching a discus. 4. On his way to a second-place finish in the NAIA Indoor Walk is Paul Ide. Ide is the first race walker in FHS track history. 5. Just clearing the hurdle in the 440-yard intermediate hurdles race is Tom Bradrick, on his way to a first place finish against Emporia State in the Tigers' only home meet. Bradrick was a member of FHS's strong corps of middle-distance runners. 6. Trailing an Emporia State runner, Dennis Kozub eventually moved up to take third in the 880-yard run with a time of 1:56.9. This completed a 1-2-3 sweep by Hays in the event as Jon Nelson and Ron Sieker finished ahead of Kozub.

Tigers Top Emporia in Only Home Track Dual

1. Straining to get the rest of his body over the bar, Tom Halbrook takes third in the high jump during the Emporia State dual, with a leap of 6'4". 2. Alex Francis, in his 26th year as Tiger track coach, has brought prominence to Tiger athletics by coaching numerous track All-Americans. This year's Bengal squad was one of the youngest he has ever coached. 3. Jim Birnbaum and Ron Lawrenz lead the pack during the one-mile run with Emporia State. Birnbaum and Lawrenz both earned All-America honors at the NAIA indoor track meet held in Kansas City. 4. As he did throughout the season, Jim Birnbaum leads the field in the three-mile run. Another member of FHS's middle distance crew, Ron Lawrenz, follows close behind. 5. Gordon Kaufman receives the baton from Tom Bradrick to start the third leg of the mile relay in the Tiger's only home dual.

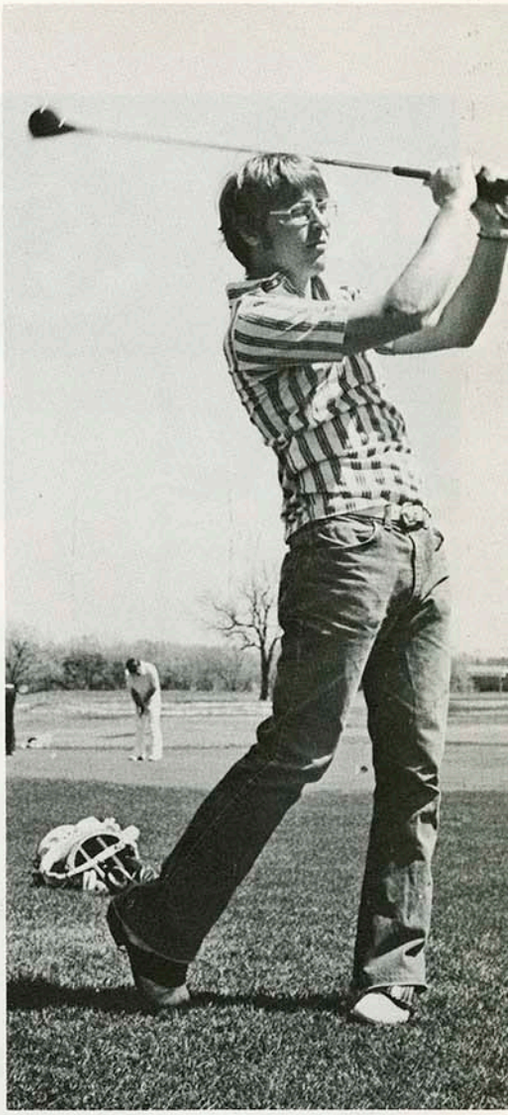

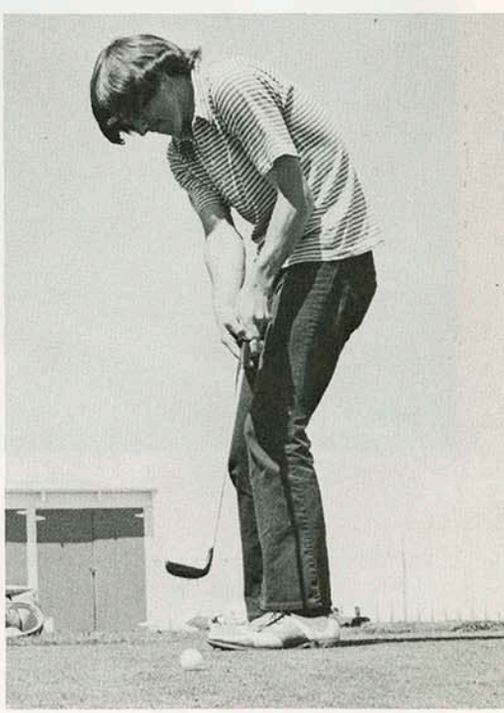

"We have an unbalanced squad this year. We were exceptionally strong in the middle distance and distance events, but somewhat weak in the sprints."

— Coach Alex Francis

1 2 3 5 6 4 1. Keeping his head down and his eyes on the ball, John Pekarek prepares for a meet against Kearney State by hitting a few drives off the tee. 2. John Maple seems to be satisfied with this shot as he follows the flight of his drive. 3. A frustrated Dan Harvanek watches this putt stop just short of the hole. 4. On one of the rare sunny days of spring, Dick Ahlberg hits his tee shot during a home meet with Kearney State. 5. Touching up his putting stroke, Bob Lowen, Jr. makes good use of the practice green at the Fort Hays Country Club. 6. 1972-1973 Fort Hays State Golf Team, front row: Dan Harvanek, John Pekarek, John Maple, Terry Merrifield, Coach Bob Lowen, Sr. Back row: Blake McGuire, Dennis Speier, Bob Lowen, Jr., Dick Ahlberg.

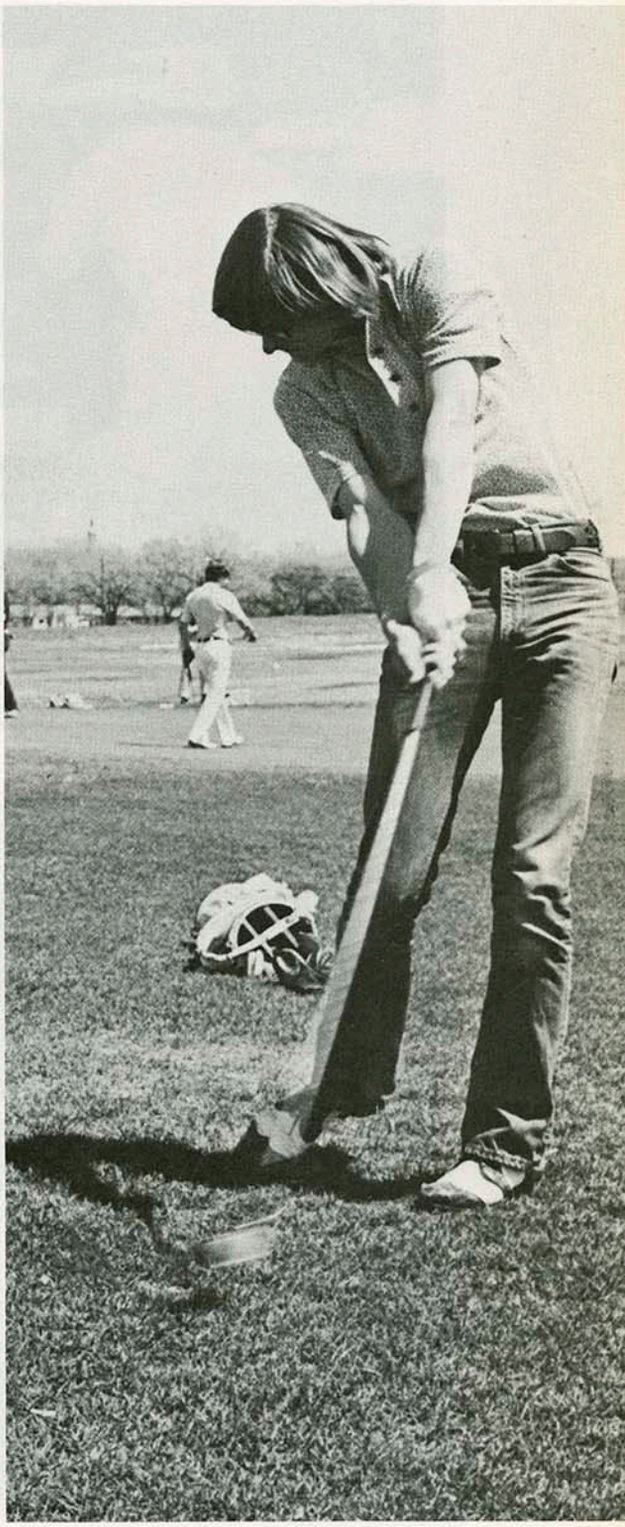

Wet Spring Slows Golfers

"We felt like we had as good a personnel as FHS has ever had but because of the tremendously wet spring we had a difficult time proving our potential. Several of our meets had to be cancelled due to the rain. I really do feel that we had eight good golfers."

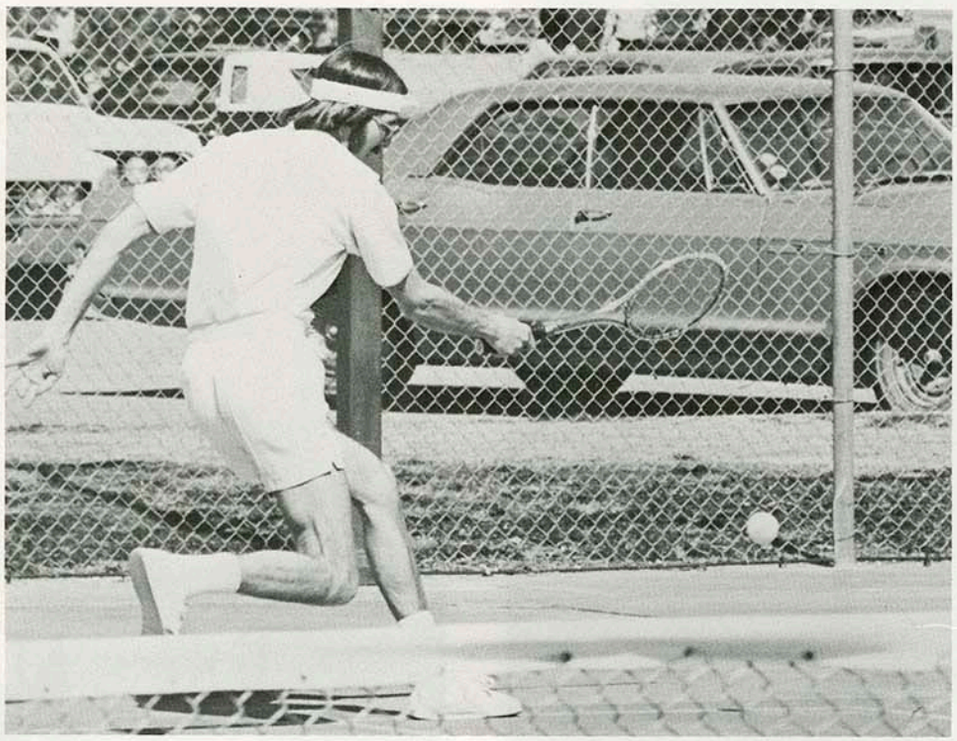

— Coach Bob Lowen, Sr.

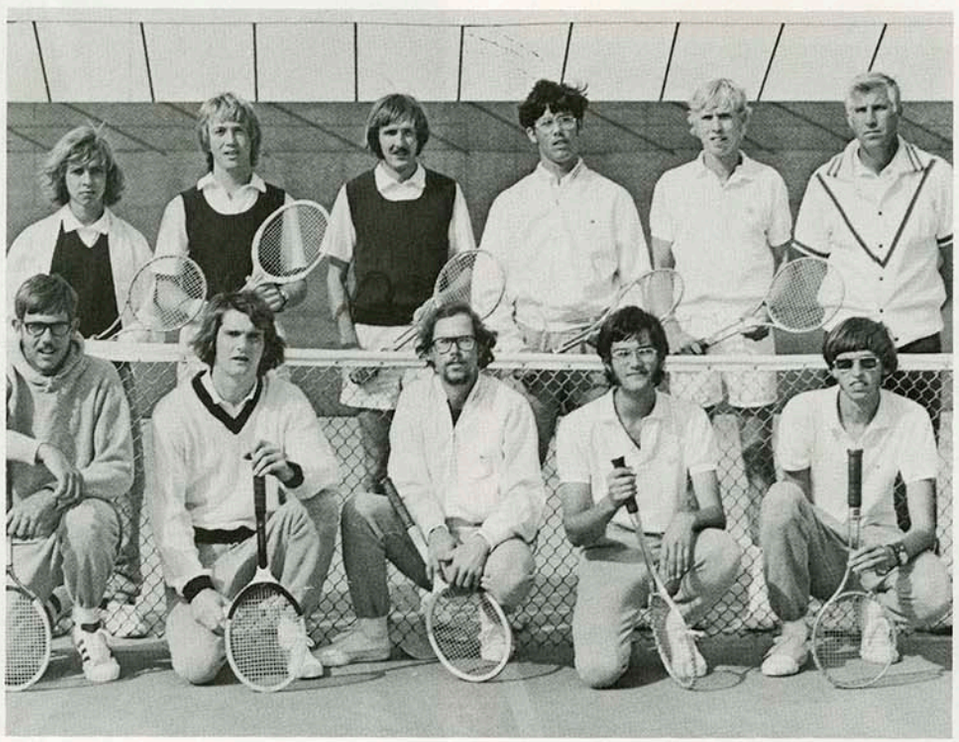

"We competed well considering the fact that some of our players played in higher positions because we lacked the real outstanding player. All ten men that were out got into the action, either in varsity or junior varsity matches. The kids who had the most success in singles, Dave Hewett and Kim Emmert, will be returning to our squad next year."

— Coach Bud Moeckel

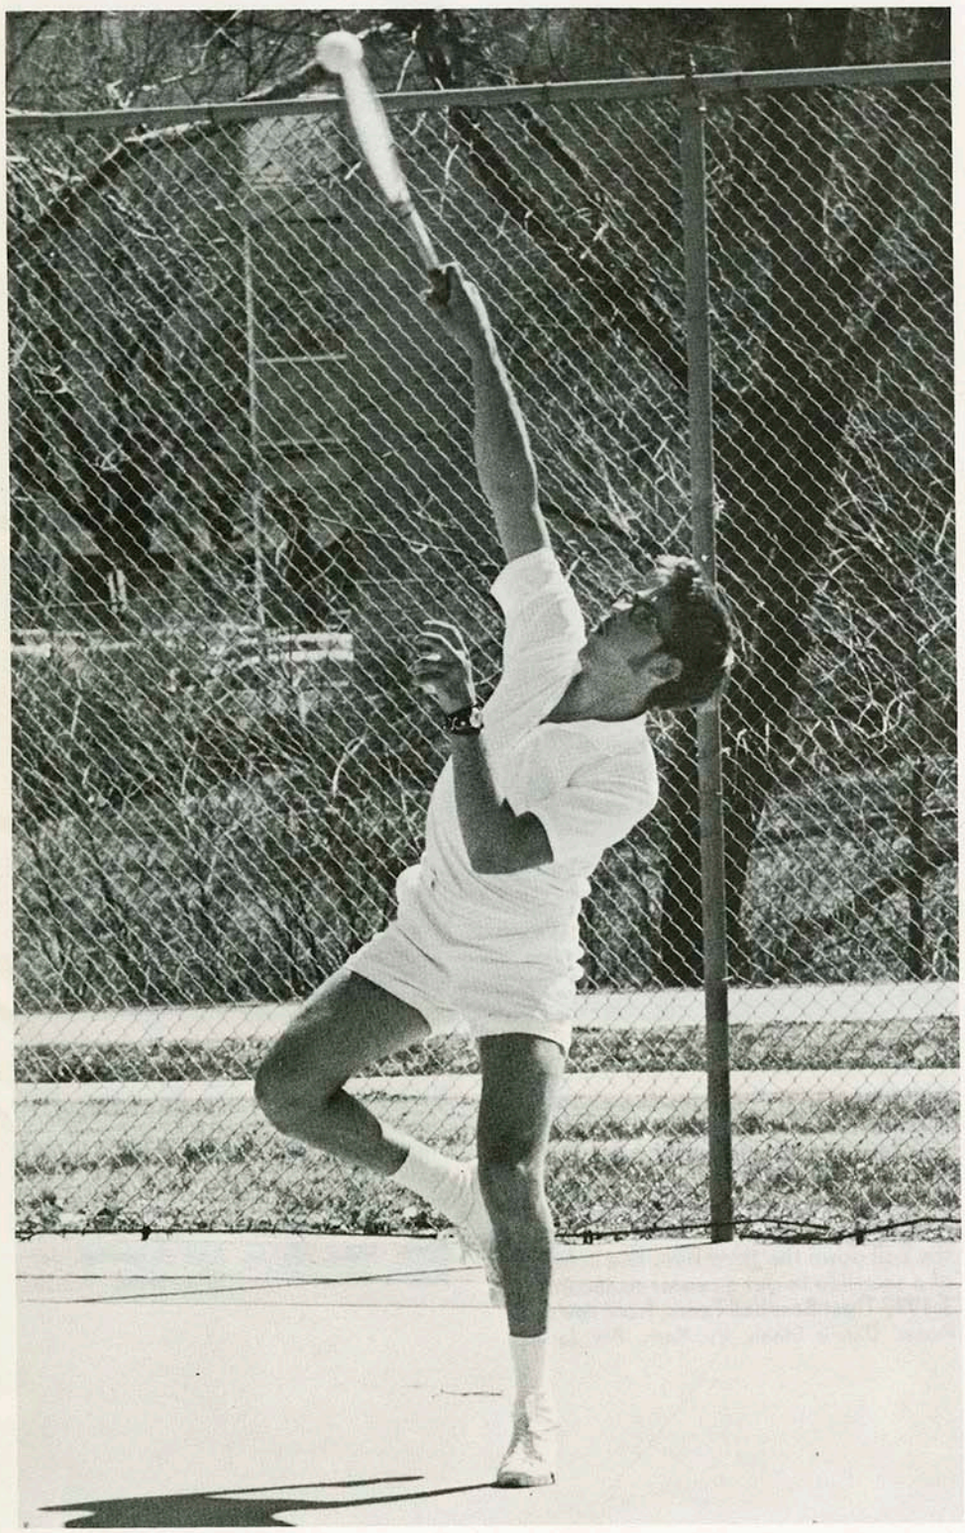

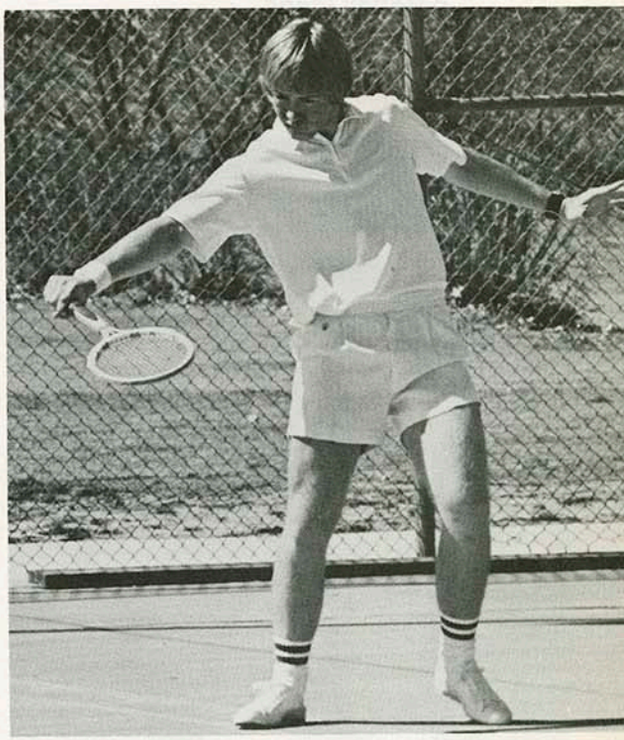

Tennis Team Falters in GPAC Tournament

1 2 3 4 5 6 1. Pursuing an opponent's shot, Wayne Copeland is forced to use his backhand shot in order to save the point. 2. By charging the net, Larry Laubhan has an opportunity to use his slam to help win the match. 3. One of Mike Pellant's strong points was his powerful serve. 4. Dave Hewett, one of the top FHS singles players, demonstrates his strong backhand shot. 5. 1972-1973 FHS Tennis Team, front row: Mike Pellant, Joel Robinson, Larry Laubhan, Steve Lang, Tom Carpenter. Back row: Kim Emmert, Dave Hewett, Wayne Copeland, Randy Thompson, Larry Lockwood, Coach Bud Moeckel. 6. Randy Thompson appears to be out of position but uses his forehand shot to return the ball.

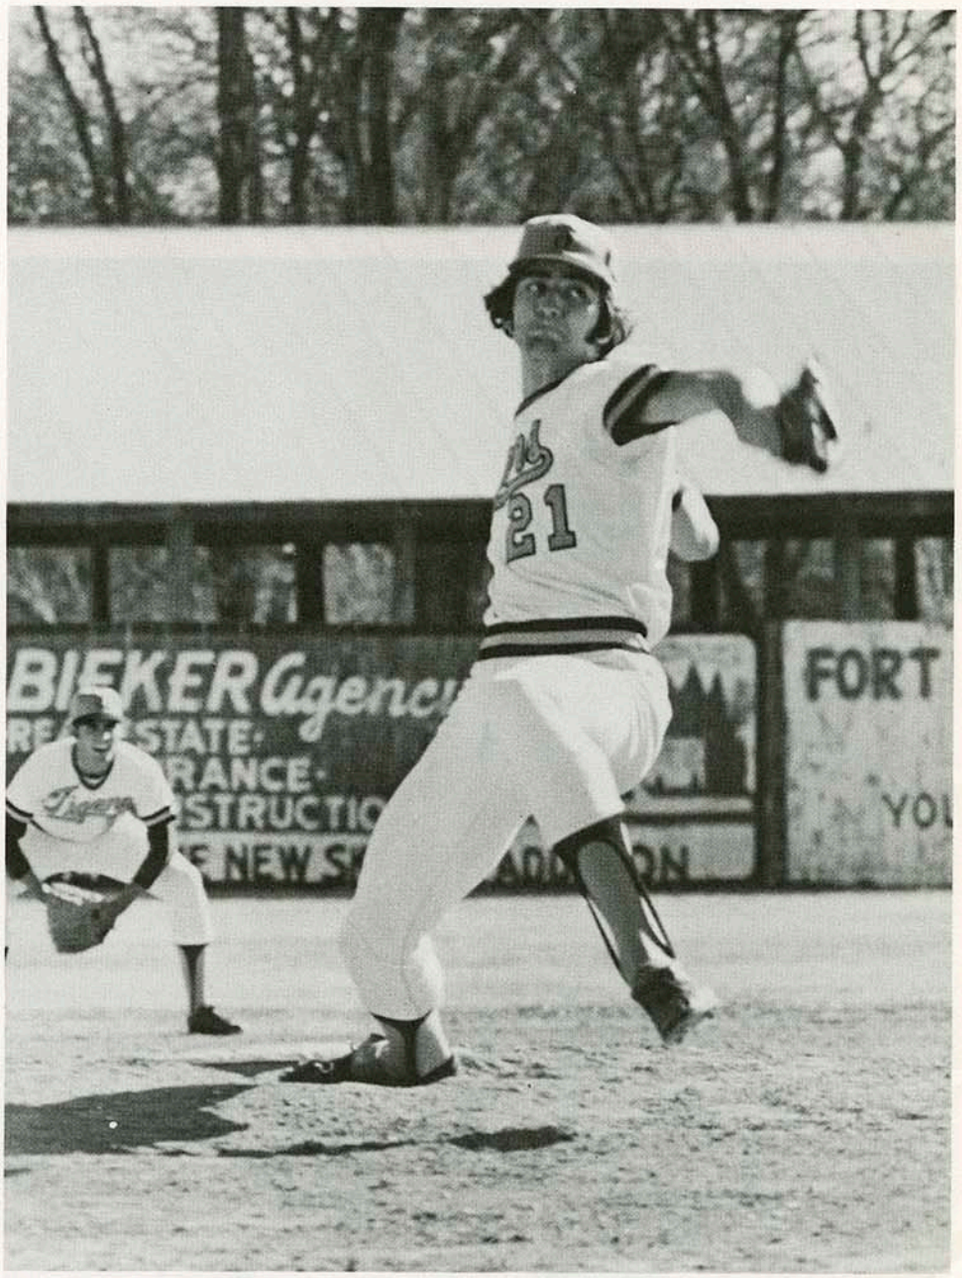

"We have won over 100 games in the four years that I have been here, and I think that we played an integral part in making a name for Fort Hays State on the college baseball scene."

Soccer Club Following Grows

"We have one of the outstanding intramural programs in the state because we bave such high participation by the men. Our whole program is student run. The rules and regulations are set up by students, the officials are students and the supervisors are graduate students. Nothing is done in the intramural program without the consent of the students. The intramural council is composed entirely of students."

Intramurals Offer 20 Individuals and Team Events

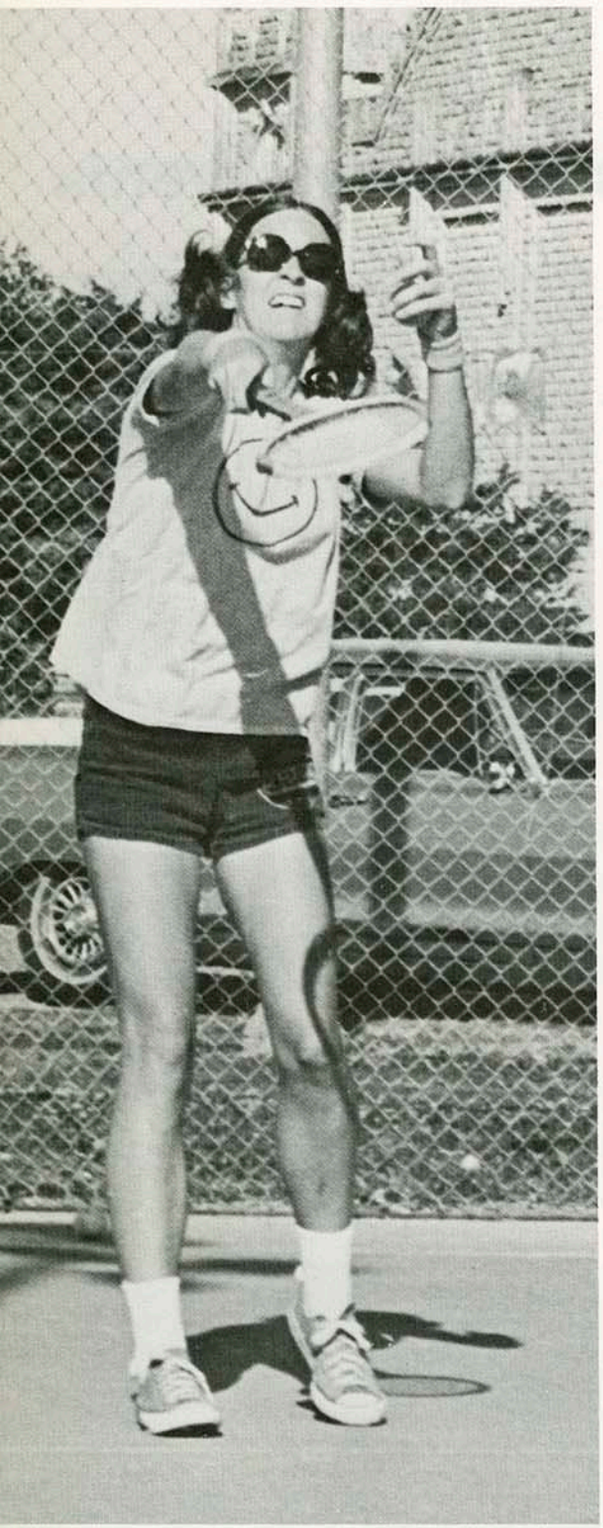

"Intramurals help to relieve tensions through competition and at the same time, I get some good exercise. It is also a good way to form friendship and unity among a bunch of individuals and at the same time it gives them a sense of team pride."

Tigerettes Take Seven of Eight Matches

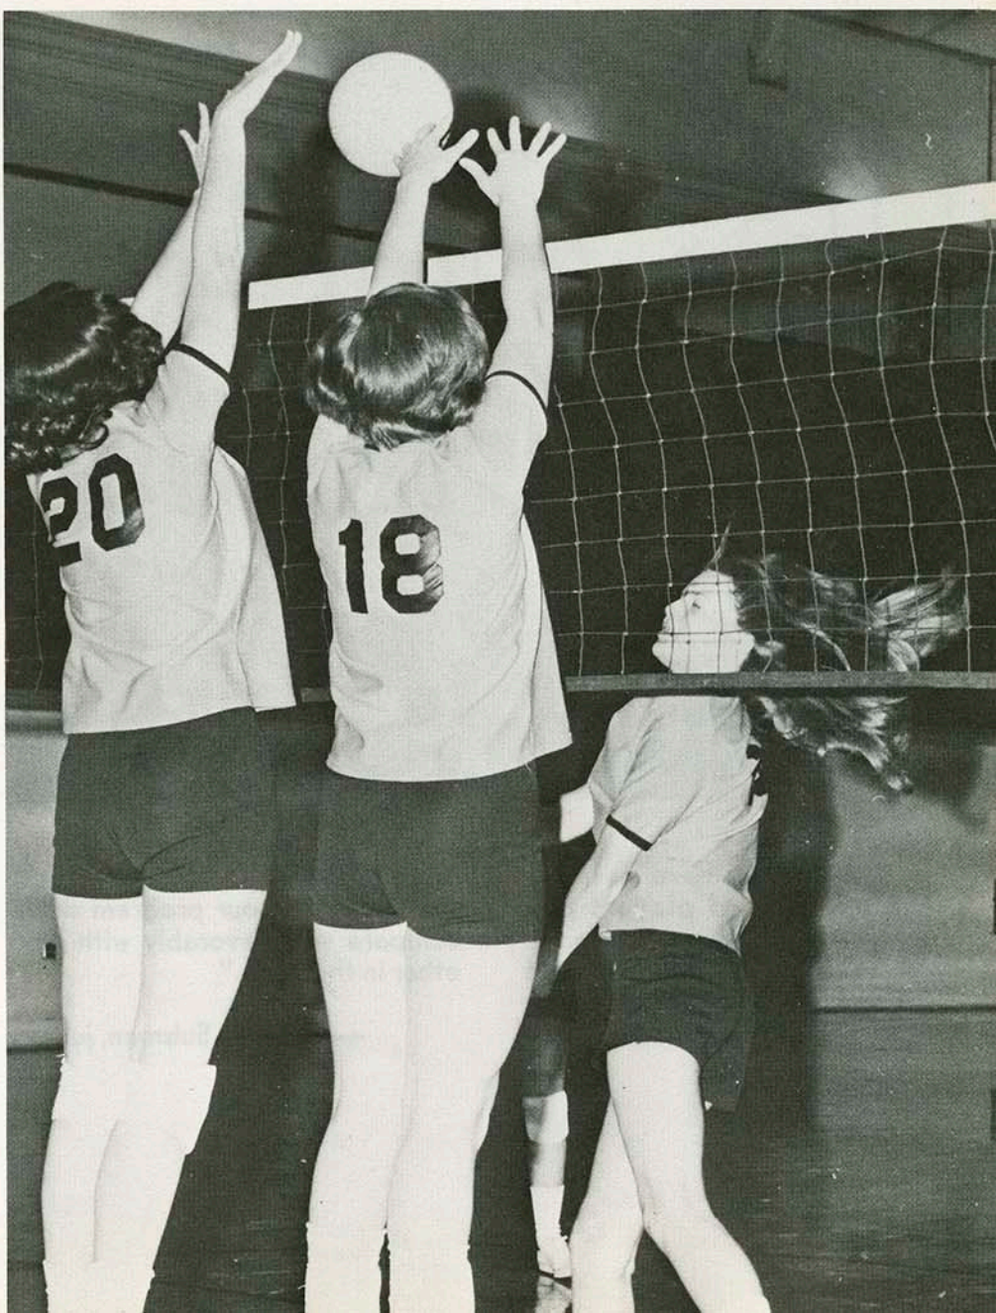

"I feel like we have as dedicated a bunch of players and coaching staff as any school in the state. We have a great bunch of individuals on this team and I think we are all real proud to be representing FHS as a women's softball team, because our program does compare very favorably with any other in the state."

— Annette Sulzman, junior

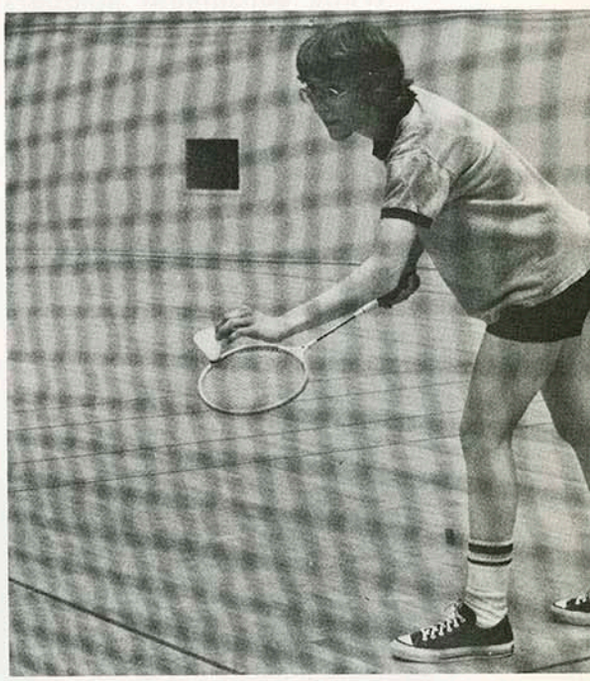

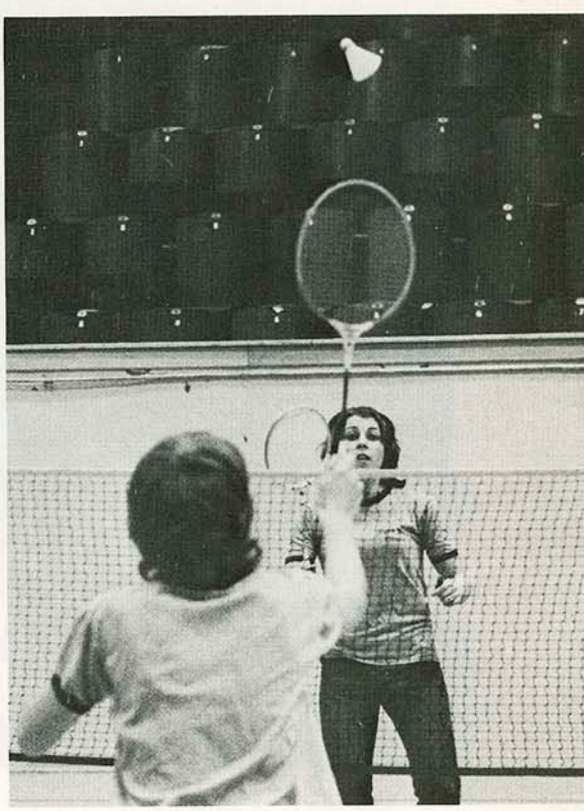

"As far as the state competition — we had a very successful season by taking second in the state. Next year we hope to add more home and away games for our team. Everyone learned from our experience in the Minneapolis, Minn., regional tournament competition."

Highlighting the Faculty and Administration

At a convocation of Sept. 8, President John Gustad announced that the "College was looking forward to a great, somewhat strenuous year." Thirty new faculty members were also on hand to face the new year when classes convened in late August.

One of the year's highlights was an Hawaiian Luau given in honor of the Board of Regents on Sept. 16. Also on the year's agenda was the annual Old English Madrigal Dinner, an event of Dec. 1-3.

Due to decreased enrollment, twelve faculty positions were to be eliminated at the end of the school year. After a frantic appeal, however, Governor Docking restored a portion of the cutback in funding and the eliminations were not necessary.

On the national scene, President Gustad was selected as publication advisor for College Managment, an administrator's magazine.

Several faculty members were honored at the end of the year with a retirement dinner, these included Mrs. Frances Cook, Miss Naomi Garner, Miss Harriet Ketchum, Dr. Archie Thomas, and Mr. Myrl Walker. Two FHS faculty women, Dr. Verna Parish and Dr. Lorraine Machan, were also honored on AWS Honors Night as Outstanding Faculty Women.

"The decline of AWS has been due simply to the accumulating lack of interest and less involvement on the part of the women students. This I believe, is because the organization seems to have outlived its function."

Highlights of Leadership and Honoraries

Leadership is an important element in the life of any college. The 1972-1973 school year at Fort Hays gave many people the opportunity for leadership and recognition.

In September, Student Senate President Dennis Schamber announced that the goal of his term in office would be to produce better public relations. With a membership of 38, the campus government organization worked throughout the year to promote and guide FHS.

Thirty-two FHS seniors were elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Criteria for election included scholarship, campus contributions, faculty evaluation, and election by senior peers. In addition, the 20th annual Phi Kappa Phi initiation banquet found 9 juniors and 29 seniors inducted into the campus-wide scholastic organization.

AWS initiated the Big Sister Program in the fall. Honors night climaxed the year. Due to lack of interest, however, the organization disbanded in March in search of something better.

Sophomore Women's Honorary was active throughout the year ushering for Little Theater, helping with the Bloodmobile, and campaigning for the United Fund. The organization also petitioned for national membership in SPURS.

Seventh Cavalry, a fraternity for men who exhibit outstanding scholarship and leadership qualities, again sponsored two academic scholarships. Members were also active in Parents' Day and the sale of campus directories.

"Az-Lit," a student produced literary magazine was a major undertaking of Lambda Iota Tau, English honorary. The Magazine contains everything from fiction to poetry.

The national mathematics honorary, Kappa Mu Epsilon, helps math students gain a broader view of mathematics and its application. This year, the organization also constructed visual aids to be used in various math classes.

Kappa Omicron Phi, home economics honorary, showed distinguished service by supporting Crossnore School in Crossnore, North Carolina. The year was highlighted by observance of Founder's Day in December.

Innovation of a book exchange was one project of Phi Alpha Theta, history honorary. A spring banquet was given to initiate new members and was open to all history students.

The National Student Speech and Hearing Association again sponsored hearing screening tests. This campus-wide service is free to all students.

"There are many different people in the world, and strangely enough, they can be compared to different kinds of boats. First of all is the row boat, and it has to be pushed wherever it goes. Next is the sail boat that waits for the wind and goes wherever it's blown. And last is the steamboat. It goes steadily under its own power through storm or calm."

Mortar Board Women's Leadership Organization

"Mortar Board is the one organization I belong to I have pride in. It seems the girls go out of their way to make it a worthwhile organization. The girls feel like it is an honor to be in the organization and they try to live up to this. We have tried to volunteer, to be of service in several ways, as guides to the NKATE team, during freshman orientation and at A and L series. We decorated a room at the Day Care Center. We try to be of service to the school and community; to help bring town and school together."

AWS disbands, seeks new idea

Associated Women Students is being disbanded after this semester, Jean Stouffer, dean of women students, said "It's time for a new idea; the old legislative idea is outdated."

In the past, AWS has been a ruling body, setting regulations for freshmen women's hours. Its additional function was to act as a judiciary body when these regulations were not followed.

Basically, AWS's function was to give the freshman woman a guide to live by. Each year these rules have become less strict and until now there are virtually no restrictions. Next year incoming women won't have hours at all. This is partially due to the new Equal Rights Law passed by the Kansas Senate.

The organization has come to an end and some of the representatives have an idea why. Anne Henderson, Overland Park sophomore, remarked, "I think that this year's executive council, and especially Kerry Mapes, president of AWS, should be commended for their efforts. The decline of AWS has been due simply to the accumulating lack of interest and less involvement on the part of the women students. This, I believe, is because the organization seems to have outlived its function."

Another representative, Jolece Tate, Medicine Lodge junior, said, "Its basic function was to set standards which would help the freshmen women, and that purpose is no longer there."

Next fall a new woman's organization will come to Hays. This organization will cater specifically to those women who are interested in it. This means that there will no longer be a women's organization that represents all women on the FHS campus.

When asked about the new organization, Miss Mapes said, "It has not yet been determined as to what the new organization will do because it is still in the planning stage. There is money being put aside for the new program and the main function will be to alert women to job opportunities and how they can further themselves in the business world. There will be a dinner next month to make further plans."

Seniors, Post Graduate and Graduate Students

Fort Hays offers degrees in several areas, the divisions of which are often confusing. The 1971-73 General Catalogue explains them thus:

Four graduate degrees are offered on two levels. The Master of Science (M.S.) degree, the Master of Arts (M.A.) degree and the Master of Music (M.M.) degree are awarded for the first year of graduate study. The Specialist in Education degree is given for one year of advanced graduate study beyond the Master's degree.

The Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree and the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree are offered in the Liberal Arts area of the College. Requirements for these undergraduate degrees provide a broad education encompassing multiple areas of study. Courses are taken in humanities, natural science and mathematics, and social and behavioral sciences. B.A. and B.S. majors may be in the same subject fields with the distinction that the B.A. degrees usually carry a language requirement and B.S. degrees require that a student have 50 hours of sciences with a minimum of 30 hours in one subject field.

Curricula offered in the Applied Arts provide intensive preparation in a given field, usually for a particular vocation of profession. Applied Arts degrees are listed as B.S. in (major).

Liberal Arts Degrees:

B.A., art
- biology (biol.)
- botany (bot.)
- chemistry (chem.)
- economics (econ.)

FHS — A World Within Itself

Fort Hays State, like any college is somewhat a world within itself. It operates under its own special government, has its own defined spending limits, and is peopled with special brands of homo-sapiens known as the faculty members, the administrators and the students.

As it does in other communities, tragedy struck FHS on Saturday, Oct. 7, when Professor Dennis D. McKee died. The 60-year-old professor was preparing for an outing with the Industrial Arts Club and faculty, when he suffered a heart attack. McKee had been a part of Fort Hays since his study here in the thirties before his graduation in 1936. After studying in Colorado, and teaching for a few years, McKee joined his Alma Mater's teaching staff in 1953. He taught auto shop and industrial arts education until the time of his death. To honor Dennis "Mac" McKee, a special award for the Most Outstanding Multi-Pupil Project division of the annual Industrial Arts Fair was cast and presented.

The student body suffered another loss this year as James V. Allphin, Palco sophomore, was accidentally wounded in a shooting mishap. Allphin and some of his friends were cleaning guns when one discharged, killing the FHS youth.

FHS also faced a year of growing pains, periods of apathy, a few false hopes, and a session or two in "big universitization."

Probably the biggest advance came through the work of the 22 campus students who organized the Black Student Union to cultivate and promote the understanding of Black culture. The newly formed BSU stretched out its hand to help organize the Chicano and Latin American brothers

1 2 3 4 1. Derby Days finds the Union lined with participants for the various activities, and the mob bursts into excited cries each time a crowd of females go after a single black-derbied male. 2. Preparing for a blast from an ancient cavalry cannon are three museum visitors. 3. Near the Fort Hays campus, these two cyclists stop to watch the small buffalo herd grazing near the highway. 4. The Kutana Players performed for the Black Heritage Weekend sponsored by the Fort Hays State BSU.

into an organization of their own.

But some of the FHS organizations didn't fair so well. Threatening clouds hung over the State College Leader's head as the Student Senate decided the paper wasn't printing the required amendments and bills, therefore nullifying their passage. So the

Professor Initiates Nicaraguan Earthquake Fund

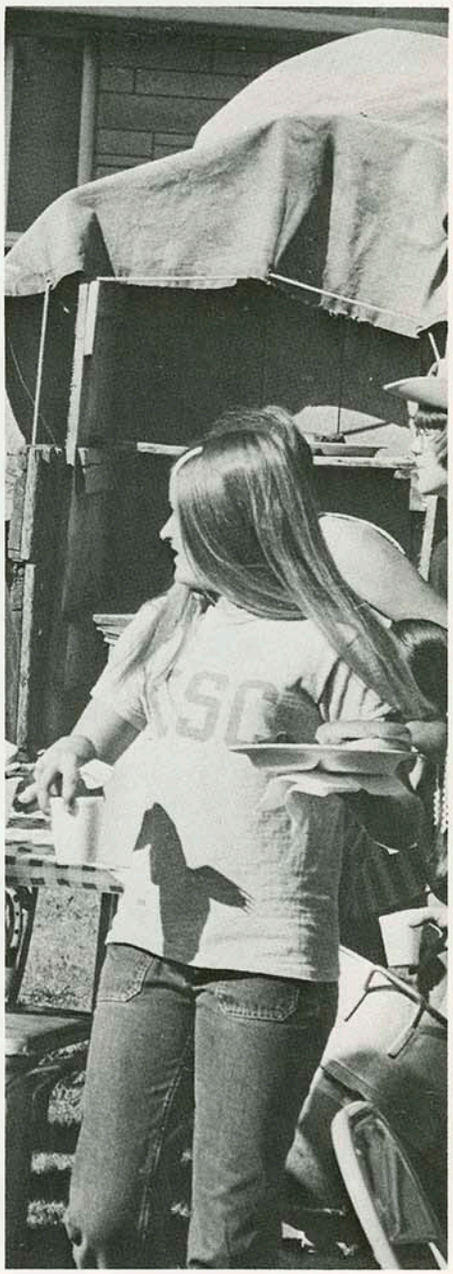

Senate threatened to, and did once, cut off the paper's funds. Finally the Senate bought advertising space in the Leader, and advertised all their missing material and a new bill that said, in effect, that the bills would all be binding even if the Leader didn't print them.

The Leader suffered again after staying up all night during the national elections so that the college paper could be the first on the streets of Hays. The electronic age must have deadened everyone's excitement as hardly anyone bothered or even wanted to see the special edition.

One of the more publicized, fruitless hopes was the "highly optimistic" try at getting John Denver to perform at Fort Hays, figuring the sudden rise of the performer's ratings on the charts would definitely fill Sheridan. Unfortunately, his sudden rise in popularity also signaled a sudden rise in his price.

Another, more worthy, but less publicized endeavor was Assistant Professor Ronald Fundis' initiation of the Nicaraguan Earthquake Fund to help rebuild the National University of Nicaragua in Managua. The 5,000 student University was almost totally destroyed by the great quake. Fundis was particularly interested as he lived in Managua for two years while he did research in association with the Agency for International Development in 1966-69. This agency helped build the new, now devastated campus for the 150-year-old University.

Mimicking the campuses of K-State and KU, FHS finally came up with a self-beautification project which dotted the landscape. From the stone of the Half Century Club to the redwood lattice work and the red and yellow metal sculpture, our newly found "culture" changed the scenery, to say the least.

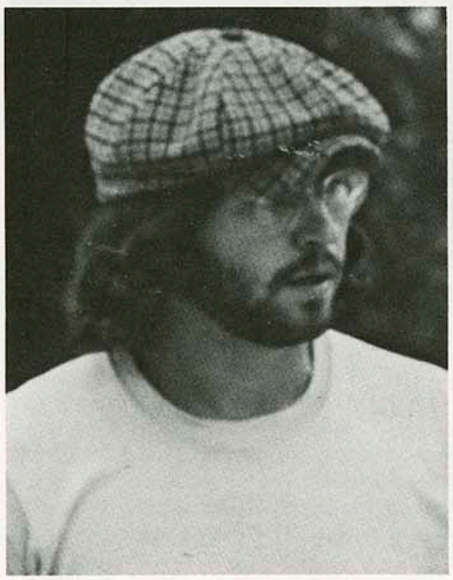

FHS also stepped into the modern scene with its bomb threat of McMindes Hall. All women, except those on the top two floors, were ushered out to safety while the building was searched. Fortunately, FHS isn't quite sophisticated enough to have a bomb.

Still on the destructive side, the new HPER complex suffered its first damage when someone broke through a couple of windows in an unsuccessful attempt to get into that inviting, gigantic pool.

On the more positive side, the students were vitally concerned for the future of Fort Hays and worked as never before to recruit new students; cooperated with the faculty and administration in student and college government and planning. Going to great lengths for philanthropic programs, organizations played basketball, rode bicycles, played games and worked long hours that others might benefit.

President Gustad lauded the Student Senate and governing officers for their cooperation and leadership, making it a good year.

So next year, the FHS campus and its unique brand of homo-sapiens will be greeted with a slightly used (very slightly) HPER complex, and a new chance to wrestle with the Kansas Legislature, seeking equal consideration and financial support for the only State-assisted College in the Western two-thirds of the State.
